Every little bit helps

More Tidelands funds trickle in

BY ED LEPOMA

A new check's in the mail for coast projects depending on state Tidelands funding.

Secretary of State Eric Clark informed Department of Marine Resources officials by letter this week that an additional $624,043 is available. In fact, Clark's spokesman, David Blount, said the check was put in the mail Wednesday to DMR Executive Director Glade Wood.

Blount said the proceeds represent revenue that has come in from Tidelands leases since the state closed out its fiscal year July 1.

Coast supervisors and mayors, dependent on Tidelands funds to continue several pier and recreational projects already underway, were disappointed last month when Clark's office informed them funding was cut 40 percent across the board because revenues fell $2 million below estimates.

The Secretary of State's Office had estimated collections of $5.2 million, but at year's end there was only $3.2 million in the coffers.

Hancock County had requested $300,000, with the major portion planned toward continued construction on a new county marina taking shape off Lakeshore Road. Instead, the county received $189,197. Bay St. Louis got $252,000 instead of the $400,000 the city had requested, putting completion of the Ulman Street pier in further jeopardy. The city of Waveland had requested $300,000 mainly to continue improvements to the Garfield-Ladner pier, but received only $189,197.

Blount said it was up to DMR to decide how the new funds would be distributed, but he expected it to be disbursed on a "pro-rata and fair basis" to all cities and counties along the coast.

"It's not going to get them up to the amount they requested, but it will help," he said.

He added that the Secretary of State's office plans to work more closely with the legislative committee to ensure the amount appropriated each year matches funds that will be available.

Debris lingers

Although last Monday was the start of the second sweep, there's still a lot of tree limbs and debris lining some streets in Bay St. Louis. This photo was shot on Leopold Street last Tuesday. Contractors have until Nov. 25 to pick up the remaining debris from Hurricane Georges. (Echo staff photo by Ed Lepoma)

Victim's relatives sought

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Hancock County Medical Examiner Norma Stiglet is in need of contacting relatives, or friends of Kyalo Muema Kisulu, who was killed in an auto/pedestrian accident on Tuesday, five miles west of Waveland.

Kisulu, a native of Kenya, had a last address of Sarasota, Fla., Stiglet said.

Stiglet added, "Anyone knowing anything about Kisulu, his last employment, or even knowing a relative of him, needs to con-

Seminary looking to future

BY BETSY GAGNET

St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis is celebrating a 75-year history this year, but keeping an eye on the future.

The seminary is currently undergoing major renovations in an effort to prepare for the anticipated retirement of 25 priests and brothers of the Divine Word Missionaries within the next five years. St. Augustine is the headquarters for the Southern Province which includes Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas.

St. Joseph's Hall, which housed the seminary office, gift shop, kitchen and dining facility, has been torn down. A replacement building will feature a new kitchen, dining facility and community room.

Renovation of the building was originally considered, but cracks in the main foundation, sinkage and other structural problems ruled renovation out.

"(St. Joseph's Hall) was built by the brothers beginning in 1949," said Fr. Bob Kelly, Director of Development at St. Augustine. "The building was sturdy, but the foundation was not strong enough."

Christmann Hall, the residence for the priests and brothers, is also undergoing renovation. The small, bare rooms will be made more suitable for those who will be retiring at the seminary, explained Fr. Kelly.

"(Christmann Hall) was built more as a faculty residence for teachers," he said. "It was never built with any retirement thoughts in mind."

Stennis receives go-ahead to fuel military planes

BY ED LEPOMA

That new fuel tank farm the Hancock County Port and Harbor recently completed is already paying big dividends.

At Monday's P&H Commission meeting, it was revealed that, after months of trying, Stennis International Airport has been approved to fuel government or military planes.

The contract could bring in several thousands of dollars in new revenue each year for the P&H Commission, as well as an additional revenue base for United Aircraft Services, one of the airport's two fixed based operators (FBO's).

Bill Stovall, Stennis Airport director and asst. P&H director, said the airport's two FBO's (Phillips Aviation is the other) bid on a contract advertised by the Department of Defense, and United was awarded an 18-month contract.

"That means any government or military aircraft that lands here can refuel here. United receives a certain portion for fueling the planes, and Stennis will receive a fuel flowage fee," said Stovall.

The significance of the contract comes into better focus with estimates that it takes approximately 5,000 gallons to fuel a large military cargo plane.

And, Stovall is trying to promote more military usage of Stennis Airport.

He reported that in recent weeks an inspection team from Dover Air Force Base in Maryland spent two days inspecting facilities at Stennis.

"They're thinking about us-

Voters to return to polls for runoff elections

BY BETSY GAGNET

Voters will return to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 17 to decide two runoff elections.

In the race for Chancery Court Judge Eighth District, Place 1, Malcolm Jones and Wes Teel face each other in the runoff.

In Waveland, Ward 1 voters will also decide the Democratic primary runoff for Alderman between Milton Bernard and Jay Fountain.

Fountain finished the Nov. 3 primary with 84 votes, followed by Bernard with 82 votes and Nikki Tingstrom with 45.

The winner of the runoff will face Republican Rhonda Aime-Grant in the general election on Dec. 1.

Milton C. Bernard, a lifelong resident of Waveland, is a graduate of Bay High School and attended Massey Technology Institute in Jacksonville, Fla.

Bernard has 15 years experience in the accounting field and currently holds a position with CSX Railroad. He previously worked as superintendent of streets for the City of Waveland.

He is married to the former Marie Hayward of Waveland. They are the parents of a daughter, Casey, who is a junior at Belhaven College in Jackson.

Jay Fountain, 44, is a lifelong resident of the Waveland area. He is a graduate of Bay

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

"We thank almighty God for turning Earl away from us and leaving us without any damage to speak of. We have truly been blessed this hurricane season."

Did this prayer mean that prayerful believers standing in the path of Earl and other storms were not blessed? Was God somehow being partial to the prayers of folks in our region?

This was a frequent, common prayer and refrain after fickle tropical storm Earl had finally taken a decisive turn to the East, merely sideswiping the southern most islands of Louisiana, albeit with much more water than anyone wanted.

Yet, in the midst of prayer, everyone knew someone somewhere had to get hit by the storm. In fact, had we been generous enough to welcome the tropical storm here, we would have been hit by a puff-ball compared to Florida's hit.

"If this minimal storm comes ashore here," I mused,
"it will cause tidal problems and some flooding, but it will dissipate rapidly and cause much less damage than a system which has more time to intensify. This would be the least evil."

Since it's an elemental truth that a tropical storm will almost surely accelerate into a hurricane if it lingers over the Gulf of Mexico, it would be noble and spiritual for those in the path of the storm to want it to hit them first.

More than mere loss of properties, the intensification of the storm would eventually result in the loss of lives.
Unselfish prayer, therefore, should center around and encourage the course of the storm that is least harmful to human life.

With all this logic in tow, I nonetheless felt a sense of relief when Earl slowly, grudgingly turned to the northeast.

Are your prayers selfish?

The trouble is, no one wants monster winds to pound one's own shores. We would just like trouble to go away from everyone.

"Unrealistic," you say, "and totally counter to almost all the inclinations of human nature?"

If that's what you're thinking, you're at least partially right. Yet, this is exactly the challenge which Jesus throws out to us. Jesus even goes the ultimate step further, inviting us to pray for those who persecute us.

"Wish them well," Jesus is saying in so many words. In other words, do not wish storms or any evils upon them and their areas. How much more if they are not our enemies? Jesus is definitely telling us to bite the bullet in prayer.

Another type of prayer features God at the controls in storms, being credited with any turn for the better. "God made a break in the heavy rains, so I ran out, got gas for my car and did my shopping. I am thankful for that."

Sorry, God did not make a break in the heavy rains. If God were so involved, none of the destructive weather would get underway at all. The fact of the matter is, God rarely intervenes with either nature or human beings.

In other words, many of our crisis prayers appear to be quite selfish at best.

Celebrate — Thanksgiving

come an annual community Thanksgiving dinner that would go on for 50 years and has grown larger over the years.

Kim Uram and Susan Stevens have teamed up again this year to co-chair the dinner.

"Susan and I have gotten this down to a science, and I'll be sure to let my daughters in on the secret. They've been involved for years already," Uram said.

Uram's mother, Fran Lucas, had chaired the event with Marie Butterworth for many years. Uram, as well as other parish children, have grown up helping their mothers with the dinner and have taken over the tradition.

"Somewhere along the line I ended up with the job," she said.
"But it's fun. We have a good time, and I have sisters who are automatically signed up."

"Everyone is so willing to participate. That's what makes it work," Uram said. "When November rolls around, people just start signing up. I know the dinner is a Women of the Church event, but over the past years more and more men have volunteered to help."

"The women do most of the work, but we have a faithful group of men who carve turkeys, make dressing, wash dishes and work in the kitchen. It makes my job easier," said Uram.

With the passing of years, few things have changed as far as the menu is concerned.

"We don't have Effie McCulloch's famous homemade cranberry relish anymore," Uram said. "Effie prepared the relish for many years. Her job was passed down to her daughter, Linda McCulloch, who made it for several years."

The menu has been consistent. "People know what's for dinner," she said. "We change the salad every now and then,
but basically it stays the same.
The recipes for our casseroles are used by everyone, and each recipe makes enough for 50 people. We usually serve around 600 people."

"It's an annual event that the community looks for every year.
We started serving take-outs at 3 p.m. a couple of years ago, and that's worked out real well.
Things move a lot smoother

now," she said.

The menu consists of ham, turkey, dressing, gravy, sweet potato casserole, Spinach Florentine, salad, dessert, cranberry sauce and rolls. Cost is $6.

"It's a bargain," Uram said.
"Most of the food is donated, so we try to keep the price reasonable."

The Women of the Church
use the profits from the dinner to support local as well as worldwide charities and mission work.

Take-outs begin at 3 p.m. at the back door of Virginia Hall. A sit-down dinner will be served in Virginia Hall beginning at 5 p.m. Tickets are available at Christ Episcopal Church office, 467-7157.

Chamber board elects Wyly new president

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Bay St. Louis attorney Teri Wyly was elected president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, with banker Dusty Rhodes, vice-president; and realtor Herb Dubuission treasurer.

The election was held Friday at the chamber's November board meeting following the annual board retreat held at the Casino Magic Inn, Bay St. Louis.

Chuck Ueltschey, Claire Dugger and Larry Barnette from Mississippi Power Company's Economic Development Department, were the facilitators for the morning board retreat.

The new chamber's elected board includes, Wyly, Rhodes,

The president's appointed board members are, Janet McQueen, Bill Lady, Keith Mitchell and Raymos McMillon.

Student directors are, Mary Frances Ladner, Our Lady Academy; Mylon Labat, St. Stanislaus High; Andrea Sellier, Bay High School; and Tiffany Lee, Hancock High School.

Wyly will present the five names of the executive committee and committee chairman to the board at the December meeting for approval.

Group set to ship materials to Honduras

Plans are being arranged to send a shipment of goods and materials to hurricane disaster families in Honduras and Nicaragua free of charge.

Endowment will honor ex-VP, help doctoral students

A fund-raising drive is underway for an endowment to honor a former University of Southern Mississippi vice president and to fill unmet needs for doctoral students.

The Karen M. Yarbrough Doctoral Education Endowment, announced at a USM Foundation luncheon, will pay tribute to USM's 1982-1998 vice president for research and planning, who played a pivotal role in bringing USM's research efforts into international prominence.

Yarbrough's USM career began in 1971 when she became founder and director of the Institute of Genetics. She also served as assistant dean and research coordinator in the College of Science and Technology from 1976 until being named vice president for research and planning.

During Yarbrough's tenure as VP, which ended with her June 30 retirement, USM's outside research grant funding grew from less than $3 million to more than $20 million.

A native of Memphis, Yarbrough attended Perkinson Junior College, earned a bachelor's in microbiology in 1961, a master's in genetics from Mississippi State University and a PhD in genetics in 1967 from North Carolina State University.

Recovery centers, toll-free lines change schedules

Disaster Recovery Centers in Gulfport and Pascagoula, operated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA), will adjust their hours of operation beginning Monday, Nov. 16.

The new hours are 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. They will be closed Saturdays and Sundays.

The Pascagoula center is located in the (Old) Pascagoula High School, Science Annex, Dupont Street (between Pascagoula and Cauty Street). The Gulfport center is located in the Charles L. Walker Community Center, 4010 West Beach Blvd.

The FEMA toll-free application number, 1-800-462-9029, will change its days and hours of operation on Monday, Nov. 16.

The new times are 8 a.m.-6 p.m., Monday-Friday.

The toll-free number is the only way for those affected by the hurricane to apply for federal/state disaster assistance. Those with speech or hearing impairment should call TTY: 1-800-462-7585.

Those with questions about their applications, or who wish to check the status of their applications, are urged to call the Helpline at 1-800-525-0321. The Helpline will continue to operate 7 a.m.-7 p.m.

Those with speech or hearing impairment should call TTY: 1-800-660-8005.

Instead of calling the Helpline, disaster assistance applicants can also visit one of the two disaster Recovery Centers.

People who have questions about U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) applications may call the SBA toll-free information line at 1-800-359-2227 Monday through Friday, 6 a.m.-5 p.m.

"CUEVAS" QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The polls will be open on Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Hancock County for a very important Chancery Court judge run-off election.

The election covers Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties. It is very important for all qualified electors to get out and vote.

In the City of Waveland, the qualified electors of Ward I also have a run-off in the Democratic Primary election for alderman.

The winner of this election will face the Republican nominee in the December 1 Waveland's General election.

So, it is important for the Ward One Democrats to make every effort to get out and vote on Tuesday.

The Waveland election runoff will be held in the City Hall Annex on Coleman Avenue next to the Waveland City Hall.

Call your friends and neighbors and remind them to vote on Tuesday.

Remember, the Circuit Court judgeship is open to all qualified electors throughout the county, whether they be Democratic, Republican or some other party. Their vote is very important.

I am hoping that you did not miss the City of Bay St. Louis' World War II memorabilia exhibit Saturday, because there was some very interesting memorabilia.

The reception for veterans Wednesday night was very well attended, and it was good to see the many veterans and their families.

On Thursday and Friday selected classes of students visited the displays in addition to Saturday's general public viewing.

The display was courtesy of the Gulf South Collectible Club and hosted by the City of Bay St. Louis.

Patriotism is one thing many of our nation's residents have forgotten.

If everyone would just have the slightest information of what our soldiers and sailors went through during World War II, they would be out leading Veterans Day and Memorial Day parades instead of slighting them as many do. Instead of burning the American flag, they would be saluting the flag with dignity.

It is once again telephone book recycling time for Hancock Countians.

Students from schools across the area are in the process of collecting the old telephone directories after customers receive the new ones from BellSouth.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and BellSouth, with the help of Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Mississippi State University Extension Service and Fastways Systems of Mississippi, have set up a collection center on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1 to 4 p.m. to accept outdated phone books.

Last year, North Bay Elementary took coastwide honors for the number of books collected.

This is a good opportunity for students to raise funds for their schools, so residents can turn their old directories over to a student, drop them off at a school or take them on a Tuesday or Thursday afternoon to the special center on the Civic Center's parking lot on Longfellow Road.

I would like to congratulate Teri Wyly, the new president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, along with Dusty Rhodes, vice-president, and Herb Dubuisson, treasurer.

The chamber's leaders were elected after the chamber's annual retreat at the November's board meeting Friday afternoon.

FROM THE GOVERNOR

By Governor Kirk Fordice

Mississippians deserve a tax cut

Nov. 12, I submitted the final budget recommendation for my administration for Fiscal Year 2000. In the midst of uncertain economic times, Mississippi's financial condition remains strong.

During fiscal Year 1998, general fund revenue increased $187.1 million to $3.05 billion, ending the year with a surplus of more than $101 million. Mississippi's "rainy day" account began Fiscal Year 1999 with a balance of more than $230 million.

The highest priority of my fiscal agenda has always been a significant tax cut for Mississippi taxpayers. My proposal to the 1999 Legislature is simple: a 10 percent state personal income tax rebate for 100 percent of Mississippi taxpayers, annually, beginning calendar year 2000. I will also endorse legislation to index the standard deductions and personal exemptions.

According to the Tax Foundation: In 1998, Mississippians spent 126 days and worked until May 7 to pay off government — 81 days to pay federal taxes and an additional 45 days to pay state and local taxes.

In the 1999 session, I will maintain my commitment to a constitutional amendment allowing passage of legislation to reduce taxes by a majority vote of both legislative houses. This amendment would make it less difficult for government to decrease the taxpayers' burden.

With the projected increase in the aging population, taxpayers cannot sustain the financial burden of long-term care for all persons who view the Medicaid program as an entitlement. To continue to provide quality care into the next century for those who truly need public assistance, we must combine efforts to address existing needs with strategies to encourage families to prepare for the financial risks of long-term care. Therefore, I will propose tax credit legislation to reward those who utilize their financial capacity to address long-term care expenditures.

To reward and retain Mississippi's best and brightest, I will propose 100 percent funding for the Mississippi Eminent Scholars' Grant Program so that each grant award will be fully funded at $2,500 per eminent scholar. Teacher pay raises are also included in my budget recommendation for Fiscal Year 2000.

I will also request funds for expansion of the Mississippi Department of Public Safety Jackson Crime Lab facility and for additional staffing needs once the expansion is completed. A new, modern Emergency Operations Center is also a priority item, in addition to replenishment of the Disaster Trust Fund which has been depleted due to Hurricane Georges' expenses.

Public health and welfare is another fiscal priority. I will recommend additional funds for the Mississippi Department of Health for trauma care; funding for a new, pre-admission certification program for the Division of Medicaid; and funds for critical staffing needs for medical personnel at Mississippi Veterans' Homes.

To maintain fiscal stability, revenue increases must not continue to drive legislative appropriations and we must curtail general obligation indebtedness. I sincerely hope those who will remain in office into the next millennium will remember that, in a free nation, elected officials are servants. The private citizens are the sovereigns.

COUNTIES

Q Has the amount of severance taxes that must be returned to a school district to meet minimum education program requirements been reduced?

A Yes, the required allocation is reduced by 5 percent per year until the year 2004-2005 when no allocation is required. ($37-19-37)

Q Does the $1,000 annual fee allowed a constable under provisions of 25-7-27 apply to services of a constable in an action to collect a delinquent bill owed the court?

No. This fee applies only to criminal cases in which the prosecution fails to secure a conviction.

However, whether any amount is paid under this section is purely discretionary with the board of supervisors. (Attorney General's opinion to Carter dated Sept. 4, 1998)

Q Is the sheriff required to accept only cash bonds for certain offenses as directed by the justice court judges, if the defendant can arrange to make bond in the appropriate amount with a surety bond approved by the sheriff?

A Yes. (Attorney General's opinion to Ross dated Sept. 4, 1998)

Gathering toys

Assistant Fire Chief Gary Maurice, left, and Administrative Assistant Tammy Garver, remind folks to register for the Doll and Toy Fund. Registrations will be accepted through Nov. 25. The Doll and Toy Fund is the oldest holiday assistance program in Hancock County. Qualifications for assistance are simple, but mandatory. The child must be between ages 1 month to 12 years and must be a resident of Hancock County. The parent or guardian must present an acceptable Mississippi photo identification with the birth certificate or social security card for each child registered with the Fire Department. Registrations are accepted during Fire Department business hours, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. at the central station, 310 Old Spanish Trail. Because of the numbers of registrations received, no telephone calls will be accepted. All inquiries must be made in person.

Law You Can Use

A Public Service of The Mississippi Bar

Bankruptcy settles debts, but with consequences

(First in a Series)

When people or businesses become heavily in debt and cannot meet their financial obligations, declaring bankruptcy is sometimes the only solution.

Bankruptcy is a federal law that provides the person or business an orderly way to settle the debts and begin anew. For the creditors, bankruptcy enables them to receive all, part or none of the debt owed.

A person or business declares bankruptcy by filing a petition for relief in U.S. Bankruptcy Court. An individual usually files for bankruptcy under either Chapter 7 or Chapter 13. Chapter 7 bankruptcy, known as straight bankruptcy, calls for the liquidation or sale of the debtor's non-exempt possessions to repay creditors. Chapter 13 bankruptcy is known as wage earner's bankruptcy because it calls for the debtor to repay the debt in installments over a period of time from his or her excess or disposable income.

Chapter 11 bankruptcy, commonly known as business reorganization, is often complex and expensive, involves large debts, and occurs when the person or business wishes to retain the assets, remain in business, and reorganize financially. A creditor may ask the court to appoint a trustee if the debtor has been found guilty of fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross mismanagement.

Chapter 12 of the bankruptcy law offers special protection to farmers. It prevents foreclosure on a farmer's real estate debts during economic slumps. The farmer retains possession of the land and continues to operate the farm. To settle the debts, he usually devotes the profits from future crops. Declaring bankruptcy does not erase all types of debt. A debtor may still liable for tax claims, alimony, child support, property settlements, most student loans, and claims for punitive damages.

While bankruptcy may appear to be an easy way to erase debts, it does come with consequences. A person who has declared bankruptcy will have that fact on his or her credit report for 10 years. Such credit history can lead to other financial problems like the inability to get a loan for a car, a house mortgage, or even a credit card. A consumer credit counselor or bankruptcy attorney can advise a person on the best way to settle his or her debts, possibly without declaring bankruptcy.

Libraries to celebrate Children's Book Week

All three branches of the Hancock County Library System will join libraries across the country in celebrating the 1998 Children's Book Week Nov. 16-22. This year's theme is "Books Go Everywhere."

A visit from Dino the Dinosaur, along with brochures listing the Newberry and Caldecott children's book winners and free bookmarks will be available from the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, the Kiln Library and the Waveland Library Literacy Center.

The Caldecott and Newberry medals are awarded annually by the Association for Library Service to Children, a division of the American Library Association.

The Caldecott Medal is presented to the artist of the most distinguished American picture book for children. The Newberry Medal goes to the author of the most distinguished contribution of American literature for children.

A special children's story hour will be Wednesday, Nov. 18 at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis Library. "Chicka Chicka Turkey" will be the theme for the program, and program coordinator Susan Daigre will read Chicka Chicka Boom Boom, Pete's Turkey and Tasty Thanksgiving Treat. Children will be making pine cone turkeys.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately a half hour. The Kiln Library hosts a story hour every other Thursday.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school-age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

National Children's Book Week has been celebrated since 1919, when Franklin K. Mathews, librarian for the Boy Scouts of America, had the idea to honor quality children's literature.

By 1945, the promotion had become so popular that the Children's Book Council was formed to handle the administration and publicity for the week. The week before Thanksgiving is annually celebrated by schools and libraries to promote reading among children.

"Car insurance taking a toll on you? Check State Farm for a better buy."

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.®

Your continued support on Dec. 1st is greatly appreciated

With progressive, energetic leadership we can progress while maintaining the integrity of our neighborhoods.

By working with local individuals, local, state, federal government and agencies, new resources have become available.

We must develop a comprehensive plan to complete sewerage extensions to our residents and the Hwy. 90 business corridor. This not only improves the quality of life by utility extension, but will increase sales tax revenues which in turn lessens the tax burden on our local residents.

Working with board members, public works, state and federal agencies, I've received funding for five drainage projects with a massive project encompassing the entire city in the works.

Thank you for your continued support!

Elect Jay Fountain, Alderman Ward 1 - Waveland

Tuesday, Nov. 17, City Hall Annex

With 25 years of experience in plumbing sales, service and construction, I know that I am qualified and capable to better assess the drainage and sewage problems of Ward 1. I have been from one end of Ward 1 to the other, and I know where the problem areas are and what needs to be done. Because of my plumbing and business experiences, I am knowledgeable of the cost of supplies, repairs and the bidding process. I will not be in favor of accepting bids from contractors who do not meet the specifications of a particular job.

While drainage and sewage are by far the worst problems of Ward 1, they are not the only problems. I see a lot of streets in need of repair and some streets that have never been paved. I also see street lights that have been blown out for years and most streets with no lights at all.

Other points of interest in the City of Waveland include better parks and playgrounds, crossing guard arms at all railroad crossings and youth and senior citizen programs. The Civic Center on Coleman Ave. would be a great place for both youth and senior citizen programs. I would also like to see a police sub-station on the south side of the railroad tracks in the event of emergencies.

I know that these are goals that can be reached, as I have a strong desire for improvement and possess the ability to work well with others and a common sense approach, all of what it takes to achieve any task. I believe in doing things right the first time and finishing what I start.

As your alderman, I know that I can accomplish many positive and successful projects for Ward 1 and the City of Waveland. With your vote and support on Tuesday, November 17, I will be even closer to achieving these goals.

Thank you,
Jay Fountain

Eagles escape with 14-11 win over St. Stanislaus Rocks

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

On Friday night in Magnolia, tears were shed. Good times had come to end. Comradery will now begin to fade away. The final chapter of the 1998 Cinderella story of the Rock-a-chaw football team had come to a close.

South Pike head coach Clarence Morgan summed it up in one statement, "The best football team did not win tonight."

The Rocks played their last football game of 1998 on Friday night falling to the South Pike Eagles 14-11.

SSC opened the game on offense. Sophomore signal caller Jason Santiago scrambled for 12 yards and a first down; however, three plays later the Rocks had to punt.

South Pike started from mid-field on their first possession. After minimal gains on the ground, the Eagles went to the air and connected for a 19 yard gain and a first down.

Two plays later, they went back to the air and gained another 25 yards down to the Rock eight yardline.

Two plays later, the Eagles scored from four yards out with 5:46 left in the first quarter. The PAT attempt was no good leaving the score 6-0.

Santiago went back to the air connecting with Steven Knight for 12 yards. A Rock penalty brought the Rocks back on the next play.

SSC received a boost when South Pike was whistled for pass interference. It gave the Rocks a new set of downs to work with.

But, the Rocks couldn't muster any offense and they had to punt away to the Eagles.

On the second play of the drive, the Eagles fumbled the ball at their own 15 yardline. The loose ball was picked up by Rock defensive lineman Tom Brennan and returned 15 yards for the score. The PAT attempt was no good and with :58 left in the first quarter the score was 6-6.

The Eagles went three plays and out due to a stingy defensive stand by the Rocks led by Brennan, Hunter Dawkins, and Roger Ridgeway.

Santiago connected with Brandon Lewis for 17 yards and a first down on his first play of the drive. Sophomore running back Kris Cannon gained nine yards on three successive carries but the Rocks punted away.

Hancock JV wins conference title

BY B. R. HAWKINS

Hancock High School junior varsity football team walked away once more with the Gulf Coast Athletic Conference Championship. The Hawks defeated Petal, the North Division Champions, 28 to zip in the season final.

The Hawks, undefeated in their 1998 outings, have claimed the conference title the past five years. "Over the past five years, ever since Rocky (Gaudin) has been at Hancock High, we have taken the title each year," said Coach Andy Perniciaro.

Perniciaro gives credit to hard work and good instruction as to why the Hawks' display such continued strength. "We work at it harder than anyone, I think," he said. "Our junior varsity get as much time on the field as not. We work on all elements: offense, defense, and special teams."

He pointed to 5-11, 185-pound sophomore center Jake Wilson, halfback Gary Catalano, also a sophomore, and to freshmen Madhava Thigpen, a 5-8, 150-pound offensive halfback and defensive back, and six-footer Donny Moran who tops out at 240 and plays both center and defensive tackle as outstanding players for the season.

In their game against Petal, Thigpen and Doyle Moran both scored in the first quarter. Thigpen, on a four-yard run, and Moran, on a 23-yard pass from Ben Barnes. Chase Scakett's PATs were both good.

The Eagles pounded out two big gains for a first down against the Rock defense. However, a delay of game penalty pushed the Eagles back five yards. On the next play, Roger Ridgeway sacked the Eagle quarterback for a seven yard loss.

Three plays later, the Eagles busted loose on a 66 yard scoring run with 5:14 left in the first half. The two-point conversion was good making the score 14-6.

The Rocks were unable to generate any offense and had to punt away.

The Rocks held the Eagles to minimal yards and forced them into a passing situation. South Pike sent their tight end across the middle and completed a pass for 31 yards but Rock DB D'mitri Sofianos forced a fumble that was recovered by Helder Lombro at the Rock 34 yardline.

The half ended with the Rocks driving down the field behind the hard running of Cannon who had gained 20 yards on two successive carries.

The Rocks made good adjustments at halftime and came out in the second half and shut South Pike down.

On the Eagles' first possession, the Rocks forced a fumble and the quarterback went to recover the loose ball. The Rocks' Brennan, Michael Dauro, and Joe Carambat sacked him in the endzone for a safety. The score came with 10:42 left in the third quarter. The score was 14-8.

On the ensuing kickoff, Cannon busted loose up the middle but was tripped up at the Eagle 32 yardline.

Santiago connected with Aaron Dunklin for 22 yards down to the Eagle 11 yardline. A Rock penalty forced the Rocks back five yards.

Taylor LaFontaine missed wide left on a 22 yard field goal attempt with 7:45 left in the third quarter.

The Rock defense tightened up and forced the Eagle offense to pass. South Pike received two delay of game penalties and then didn't complete the pass against the Rock defense.

The Eagles lined up to punt and Lewis partially blocked the kick for the Rocks. Brennan caught the ball at the Eagle 30 and returned it to the 15 yardline.

After three plays that produced no yards, the Rocks lined up for a 31 yard field goal by Charles Raymond. The kick was good and with 4:11 left in the third quarter the score was 14-11.

The Rock defense got nasty and forced the Eagles to go three and out on their next series.

Santiago went to work connecting with Jamie Cuevas for a 15 yard gain and a first down.

He went to Stephen Peterman on the next play for another 11 yards.

Cannon gained eight yards on the next carry. However, the Rocks couldn't move the ball after that so they called on Raymond to try a 42 yard field goal attempt with 10:16 left to play in the game. His kick was short and the score stayed at 14-11.

The defense held firm and got the ball back for the Rocks on offense.

Santiago gained 10 yards and a first down. But, then three incompletions forced the Rocks to punt. Ridgeway faked the punt but overthrew Knight on the pass.

The defense gave up a first down but forced two delay of game penalties on the Eagles. South Pike completed a 16 yard pass to their slotback but they had to punt away to SSC.

Tom Brennan came in for the Rocks on a third and short situation and gained 16 yards and a first down. But, two incompletions forced the Rocks to punt away.

The Eagles ran the clock out keeping the ball on the ground. The Eagles QB took a knee with :10 seconds left to preserve the narrow win.

During the Rocks improbable run to the state playoffs, there were many individual accomplishments.

Cannon rushed for 75 yards on 15 carries to give him 1,004 yards on the season. Santiago was 12 for 28 for 115 yards which gave him 1,035 passing on the year.

Tom Brennan ended the game with 15 tackles and upping his single season record to 137 tackles. Cameron Byrne recorded 14 tackles against South Pike and upped his career record to 201 tackles. Michael Dauro finished the game with 14 tackles.

Roger Ridgeway now holds almost every punting record at SSC and led the team in scoring

Jessica signs with Southern Hancock High School's Jessica Pucheu, 5-7 guard, signs Wednesday to play for the University of Southern Mississippi. Pucheu averaged 21.7 points, 8.2 rebounds and 8.0 assists as a junior. She is the second leading career score at Hancock with more than 2,000 points. With her is her mother, Debbie Pucheu, right, Coach Sandy Albright and Raymond, Jessica's brother. Second night of county tourney as competitive as the first

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The second night of the Hancock County basketball tournament proved to be as exciting as the first one. The Brother Peter Memorial gymnasium experienced another seam-bursting crowd for the four games of the evening.

In the first game of the evening, the Bay High Lady Tigers went into battle against the St. John Lady Eagles.

The Lady Tigers jumped out to a 7-0 lead behind the quickness and agility of Sheema Ambrose and her four points.

The Tigers saw their lead become tied at 7-7 within 46 seconds and the Lady Eagles struck quickly.

The two teams swapped leads throughout the period and with :03 left to play Amber Bartlett gave the Lady Eagles the lead sinking two free throws. The score at the end of the first period was 14-12.

Bay High stormed out to a 22-15 lead in the second as Janelle Payne scored six points during the run. Once again, the Lady Eagles methodically charged back and tied the ball game.

The teams swapped leads until Bartlett became the Lady Eagles clutch player at the end of the period. She finished the period sinking two more charity shots to give St. John the lead at halftime 28-26.

The teams continued to exchange baskets throughout the third period; however, the Lady Eagles held onto a 39-38 lead at the end of three.

In the fourth period, Bay High took a 46-44 lead with 4:28 left in the game. St. John scored four straight points to take the lead back at 48-46 with 3:15 to play.

Ambrose stripped the ball and went the distance for the basket tying the game at 48-48 with 1:31 left to play.

Michelle Gere was the hero for the Lady Eagles sinking a backdoor layup with :10 to play and giving the Lady Eagles the win 50-48.

Bay High head coach Debbie Triplett stated, "It was a battle. We played hard enough to win but we had some crucial turnovers. St. John didn't surprise us with anything. We had seen them before. Sara Carter handles the ball well for them. We tried mixing our defenses up to throw them off. We are young and have limited experience, but we are getting better each game."

With the loss, Bay High falls to 3-4 on the season.

In the second game, the matchup was the same only it was the boys turn to take the court.

St. John took it to the Tigers to start the game reeling off 8-0 straight points. It was halfway through the first period before Bay High got on the board. Kelvin Redmond got Bay's first basket at 4:05 to make the score 8-2.

Despite an eight point effort by Redmond in the first period, St. John took a 15-10 lead after the first.

Bay High came out running in the second period and scored 11 points to start the period. With 5:13 left to play in the half the score was 21-15.

However, St. John had something else in mind as they scored 11 points to end the period and take a 30-26 halftime lead.

After the intermission, the fans were in store for a barrage of points. Bay High came striking quick and often. Jason Robinson opened the period with consecutive three-pointers and scored 16 points in the period. He canned four three-pointers.

Behind Robinson's hot hand, the Tigers charged ahead 51-43 at the end of three periods.

St. John made it a game in the fourth behind small scoring spurts from Matt D'Angelo. However, Bay High was able to hold off the Eagles for a 61-59 win and improve to 2-0 on the young season. Robinson led the Tigers with 19 points including five three-pointers, while Redmond netted 17 points.

Bay High head coach Monty Noblitt commented, "We were fortunate to win the ballgame. St. John is a talented squad and well-coached. They jumped on us early and took it to us for four periods. It was good that we had this type of game and were able to win it. Jason Robinson had one heck of a game and really carried us through it."

In the third game of the evening, the Hancock Lady Hawks were matched up with the Lady Maroon Tide of Picayune.

The Lady Hawks jumped out to a 6-0 lead and never were threatened by Picayune.

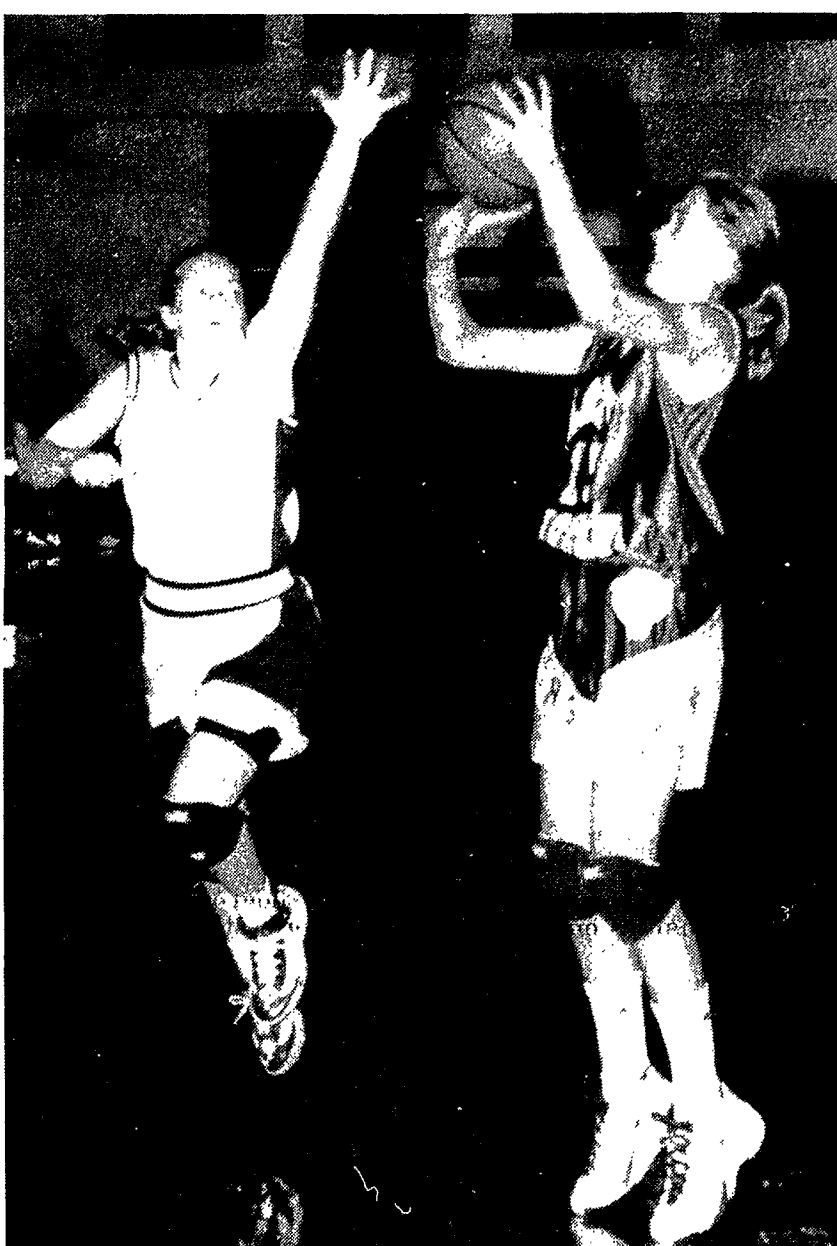

Mindy Ladner had eight points in the first period to help the Lady Hawks to a 14-4 lead.

Hancock was able to spread the scoring around and get some experience for some younger shooters in the second period. The Lady Hawks took a 35-19 lead into the intermission.

Jessica Pucheu, a recent USM signee, gave the Lady Hawks some added cushion on the score adding nine points in the third period and helped make the score 56-30 after three periods.

The Lady Hawks were able to get some younger players a lot of experience in the final period and extended the final score to 78-41.

Jessica Pucheu scored 24 points to lead the Lady Hawks, while Mindy Ladner added 18 points for the 2-2 Hancock squad.

Hancock head coach Sandy Albright commented, "We are still searching for the right combo on the court. We are looking for the right people to step for us. We needed a game like this to help us get our groove. Mindy and Jessica carried the load for us tonight but we were able to get a lot of playing time for some other folks."

In the nightcap, the Hancock Hawks battled with the home-standing St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws.

Marty Homer and the Hawks opened the game with a three-pointer and took it to the Rocks early on.

The Rocks regrouped behind Junior Davis who had 14 points in the first period and four three-pointers. SSC took a 24-13 lead after the first period.

The Rocks extended their lead to 49-32 in the second and were able to get some reserves some playing time.

The Rocks outscored the Hawks 21-15 in the third period and took a 70-47 lead going into the final stanza.

SSC went deep to their bench during the final period to gain some playing experience and scored 19 points. The final score of the contest was 89-63.

SSC head coach Jay Ladner commented, "Hancock came out and played really hard. They played with a lot of emotion. Our guys were able to bounce back and match their intensity level. However, we did miss some layups and had other costly mistakes. I was very proud of our effort tonight. I thought Junior Davis and Brandon Arcement looked better than they did on Tuesday."

Junior Davis led all scorers with 19 points.

Hancock coach Michael Ray Ladner stated, "We are experimenting with different things right now to see what we can do. We want the kids to not lay back and die. The kids have the desire to win but we have to improve our individual skills."

The final night of the Hancock County tournament is Saturday, November 14 with games starting at 4pm.

OLA ends season second in state

BY B. R. HAWKINS

The Our Lady Academy Women's Cross Country Track Club finished its season in second place in state final competition recently in Clinton. The Crescents finished second for the sixth year in a row.

Mindy Davis, who finished with a personal best time of 14:13, was named to the District 2AA All-State Team. A number of Crescents, according to Coach Harry Hull, matched or bettered their personal best or season best times.

St. Andrew won the state meet for its fifth straight competition title by capturing seven first place finishes.

OLA runners and personal best times at the state meet were: Mindy Davis, 14:13; Leslie Esher, 14:40; Amber Lewis, 14:51; Ashley Roth, 14:54; Keith Puckett, 14:56; Lauren Hansell, 15:43; and Nina Crain, 16:12.

Crescents pull off first win

In their first game of the season, the Our Lady Academy junior varsity Crescents fought their way to victory, outscoring the Lady Tigers 2-0 on tiger field in Bay St. Louis. Rachel Cranford scored first and Lindy L'Enfant cleaned up with a long goal from outside the eighteen yards line.

Outstanding defensive plays were made by Clare Adam, Colleen Kirby and Natalie Mitchell. Kira Reaver, Lauren Forte, and Camille Covington closed up the midfield. Alicia Asper and Jennifer Mays played in the keeper position for the first time and both earned shut outs.

The Crescents entertain Mercy Cross next Saturday at St. Stanislaus.

Ask your lawyer about power of attorney

Suppose you were going away on an extended trip and wanted someone else — your accountant or a grown child, for example — to handle your investments while you were away. Would your broker let them?

Probably not without a power of attorney.

A power of attorney (POA) is a document that allows you to authorize someone else to act on your behalf. POAs are used frequently — for example, to allow spouses to conduct business for each other, or adult children to handle their older parents' finances. The examples are endless.

POAs are legal documents that should be drafted with guidance from an attorney. The attorney can ensure that you clearly specify what act(s) the POA is designed to accomplish.

In a POA, the person giving the authority is the principal, and the authorized person is the agent, POA and/or attorney-in-fact. Common transactions between agents and brokerage firms include purchases, sales, gifts and loans. POAs give agents fiduciary duty to act in the principal's best interests and make decisions that are reasonably prudent and suitable for the principal.

Most POAs give agents general authority to make purchases for the principal. Securities purchases, due to their increased risk, need specific POA language authorizing the added risk. Transfers and gifts that change ownership of property require even more specific language.

Many transfer agents accept general language, such as "the power to sell, assign and transfer securities." However, some transfer agents may find such general language unacceptable. Therefore, it's to your benefit to be as specific as possible in describing the powers granted by your POA. Avoid blanket POAs that give your agent unlimited discretion.

In most states there is no automatic expiration date on POAs. However, it's best to write them to expire at a specific time. For POAs older than one year, brokers typically are required to certify that the principal is alive and the POA remains in effect. POAs are not valid after the principal dies. However, most POAs today are drafted as "durable," meaning they remain in effect even if the principal becomes mentally incompetent.

If you have a need for someone else to act on your behalf, see your lawyer about a power of attorney. Getting legal help can ensure that you don't give away the store.

BellSouth approved for long distance service

The Mississippi Public Service Commission (MPSC) has certified BellSouth's request to provide full long distance service within the state.

"We applaud the MPSC's decision to endorse our long distance filing and commend the commissioners for putting the needs of this state's telephone customers first," said Kelly Allgood, president of BellSouth's Mississippi operations.

"Their decision is a win-win for Mississippi consumers who are now one step closer to having a real choice in long distance service providers. BellSouth will now be able to take the next step in bringing the full benefits of competition to the citizens of Mississippi," he continued.

"We are pleased that the commission is supporting us as we move one step closer to give the customers a choice in long dis-ance. We are certain that by this action the commission has also significantly speeded up the beginning of residential competition."

Allgood said BellSouth's entry into long distance will not only give customers lower prices and more choices for long distance service, but will also encourage the large long distance carriers to provide local service in order to remain competitive.

Customers will then be able to choose one company — whether it is BellSouth or one of our competitors — to provide their telecommunications needs including local, long distance, wireless, Internet access or entertainment services," he said.

"One-stop shopping is what our customers have been asking for since the breakup of the Bell System almost 15 years ago."

Allgood said the Telecommunications Act of 1996 requires local companies like BellSouth to file requests with the FCC before they can begin providing long distance service in their region.

The company plans to begin preparations to file its request for approval with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) so it can bring the benefits of long distance service to the people of Mississippi.

"However, Congress intended for the state commissions to be the primary decision makers in the deregulation of the telecommunications industry, particularly in the area of consumer interest," Allgood said.

"We believe there is no substitute for the first-hand consumer knowledge of the Mississippi Commission; they know what is in the best interest of the people they serve."

"We believe our record throughout this proceeding was overwhelmingly indicative of BellSouth's compliance with each and every one of the requirements of the Telecommunications Act, FCC orders and the Mississippi Commission's own rules for competition," he said.

Allgood said in addition to giving customers a real choice in long distance service, and saving customers money on their telephone service, economic studies have indicated that BellSouth's entry into long distance will give a $650-million boost to the state's economy and create nearly 8,200 jobs.

Corps clears pathway to the Gulf

Dredging by the New Orleans District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, has opened the way for a big oil-production platform to make its way from Louisiana to a permanent home in the Gulf of Mexico, the Corps said.

The first, 1,000-foot long section of the Petronius oil-production platform successfully began the trip recently from the fabrication yard of J. Ray McDermott S.A., just east of Morgan City. Petronius is owned by Texaco Inc., the operator, and Marathon Oil Co.

"The Corps has exerted its time to get this dredging done on time for this project, which has benefitted thousands of workers at two fabrication yards in Louisiana and will benefit many more working for the owners and oil-service companies hired by them," said Col. William L. Conner, the Corps' district engineer in New Orleans.

The Corps contracted for a New Orleans-area firm to do the dredging, T. L. James & Co. of St. Rose, which became Weeks Marine during the work. The dredges were the Tom James and George D. Williams.

The key dredging job was 13 miles of Bayou Chene, which links McDermott's fabrication yard with the Lower Atchafalaya River. Under a $5.5 million contract, six million cubic yards of material were dredged to restore the channel to the project depth of 20 feet.

The Corps made beneficial use of the dredged material. All six million yards of sand, silt and clay were pumped onto Avoca Island, just south of Morgan

City, to store marsh where open water had appeared.

Congress has authorized a depth of 20 feet for Bayou Chene, but it had not been necessary to dredge it since 1988. Some waterways, such as the bayou, do not have the same annual sediment deposition as the Mississippi, and to a lesser degree, the Atchafalaya River. Bayou Chene was completed Oct. 12.

"We also speeded up our routine annual dredging of the Lower Atchafalaya and got it done despite delays caused by high seas and wind in the bar channel created by Tropical Storms Frances and Hermine," Conner said.

Additional sections of Petronius are being built by McDermott and by Gulf Island Fabricators Inc. of Houma. McDermott will install the platform in the Gulf of Mexico south of Mobile, Ala.

Trade club to meet

On Wednesday, Nov. 18, the International Trade Club of Mississippi Inc., Southern Chapter, will hold its monthly dinner meeting at the Great Southern Club in the Hancock Bank Building, One Hancock Plaza, Gulfport.

Guest speaker is Karen Mason, program assistant director of the USA-Japan Trade Expansion Center in Pensacola, Fla. Mason's presentation will be titled "Deflation of the Japanese Economic Bubble."

A reception will be hosted 6-6:30 p.m., dinner at 6:30. Cost is $15 for members and guests; $18 for non-members and $40 annual dues.

The Trade Club is required to guarantee reservations for the meeting. It is very important that everyone attending make a reservation. Cancellations are required at least one day prior to the event. No-shows will be billed.

Call Aleta Smith at 228-392-0907 on or before Monday, Nov. 16 for a reservation. Those with special dietary needs should make those requests known at that time.

American Tung Oil opens mill

American Tung Oil Corporation's newly completed milling facility in Lumberton is producing tung oil in the United States after a hiatus of 25 years in the industry.

This is good news for south Mississippi farmers and land owners interested in benefiting from this profitable and proven cash crop.

Since August, 25,000 pounds of high quality American oil have been produced at the mill.

Chamber After Hours workshop

This month's Chamber Business After Hours will be hosted by Hancock Medical Center at the hospital's new Outpatient Rehabilitation Center Nov. 19, 5-7 p.m.

The center is located in Hancock Square off Hwy. 90 near the hospital. The event is open to chamber members and guests. Admission is two business cards.

Also on Thursday, Nov. 19, the Hancock Chamber and USM Small Business Development Center will host a free workshop for small business owners.

A representative from USM's Small Business Development Center will be available at the Chamber office, 1-4 p.m. for small business counseling.

Call the Chamber at 467-9048 to register.

Seminary — Renovations underway

During the renovation, five of the resident priests and brothers have been relocated, and 11 have moved to temporary residences above the current dining room.

The project is being funded by a grant from the Generalate in Rome, Italy and is expected to be completed in June 1999, said Fr. Kelly.

Another project in the works is the restoration of the main chapel. Fr. Kelly said a campaign was begun in April to raise funds for needed repairs and restoration.

"We're not renovating," he said, "but restoring the chapel to its original condition."

The priests and brothers of St. Augustine are active in the local community. The priests assist local pastors with Sunday Masses and assist with pastoral needs at St. Stanislaus. They also serve in other areas throughout the province.

Stennis — Military stop

ing the airport for training crews to fly the C-5A, the second largest (cargo) plane in the world, as well as KC-135s and the C-130s, said Stovall.

Two 12,000-gallon capacity elevated tanks recently went on line at Stennis. The improvements were financed with a $155,000 low-interest loan made through the state's Economic and Community Development Department, and the tanks were installed by Colom Construction of Ripley at a cost about $170,000.

Jeff Hartlage, co-owner of United Aircraft with Alan Bishop, called the government contract a "win-win situation for American taxpayers, Stennis and United."

"The government will get fuel at a reduced price, and both our operations will also benefit," said Hartlage. He said his firm determined the need for more government and military traffic at the airport, and filed a lengthy proposal with the Department of Defense in order to convince that agency to try United Aircraft and Stennis.

The P&H Commission also authorized President Dave McDonald to sign a contract so the Airport Development Group can begin engineering services for the extension of a parallel taxiway at Stennis.

The Denver-based firm has the contract to develop a master plan that will chart future growth of Stennis Airport, and Stovall said an additional federal grant was expected for the taxiway extension plans.

In other business, the P&H commission approved a change order that will allow Mobile Asphalt working in conjunction with Dunn Roadbuilders of Laurel to repave the general aviation apron.

Stovall said recent repaving didn't take because of the high water table in the area, and plans now were to stabilize the base of the apron with heavier concrete. The additional work will cost $105,000.

In its meeting Monday, P&H Commissioners also authorized several changes, which will double the size and increase the efficiency of the facility at Port Bienville where rail cars are cleaned each week.

Commissioners accepted a low bid of $6,000 from Hydro Clean for a new high pressure washer, and voted to advertise for bids for a vacuum system for the car wash, and for the extension to the wash facility.

With the increase in rail service anticipated when the new Wellman plastics plant comes on line, commissioners also voted to advertise for bids on a new, larger locomotive. Port Bienville currently has one large locomotive and a smaller one, but now needs two large engines to better move rail traffic.

"From what I have been able to gather, he was apparently walking on Highway 90 West of Waveland and was struck by a vehicle Tuesday evening and this is all we know about him," Stiglet said.

$50,000, is expected to take about four months to complete.

Magee said the new study has nothing to do with a recent decision by Hancock County's Solid Waste Authority to escalate talks with a developer who has proposed to build a combination rubbish site/landfill in the buffer zone off Flat Top Road.

"They will be checking on current ownership of the land and land usage," Magee explained.

He pointed out that roughly one-third of Hancock County is included in the 180,000-acre buffer surrounding Stennis, in addition to a small portion of Pearl River County and St. Tammany Parish, La.

"That's an awful lot of land," said Magee. Because of rocket testing at Stennis, federal law does not allow any human habitation in the heavily wooded buffer zone, but livestock grazing is allowed, hunting, and logging.

"With the area growing like it is, we want to see what options might be available for some use of that land," said Magee.

In the past, Magee, who also serves as Chair of the Chamber of Commerce, Environmental Committee, has suggested that part of the buffer might serve as a mitigation bank, and used by developers dealing with wetlands.

He said another section might qualify for future federal funding as a wildlife management area.

"After completion, this study will present us some options," said Magee. "We want to see what can be done while still maintaining the integrity of the buffer zone."

Garbage

Dabler first approached the Hancock Authority in April of 1997, and returned last week to inform members that Diamondhead's contract with Waste Management Inc. will expire next month.

"Possibly, we might be able to go on a month-to-month basis with Waste Management and put a new contract out to bid," said Dabler. "But, there's a lot of variables to be worked out with Hancock County."

Currently, 3.8 mills of property taxes assessed Diamondhead residents go to the Hancock County Solid Waste Authority, and only recently has the Authority been rebating a portion of those proceeds to help subsidize Diamondhead's garbage pickup costs.

Approximately 2,500 residents of Diamondhead are charged $10 a month by Waste Management for once-a-week garbage pickup and recycling, and they are furnished a 90-gallon garbage can.

In Hancock County, the Authority contracts with USA Waste Inc. (formerly Trans-American Waste) and charges residents in the unincorporated portions of the county $5 a month, but there is no recycling available. Residents in Bay St. Louis pay $6.50 a month for twice-a-week pickup of garbage and weekly recycling. In Waveland, residents pay $6 a month for the same services.

Dabler said he feels Diamondhead residents would want recycling pickup, and would also hope to be reimbursed by the Solid Waste Authority for billing its customers. The Authority now pays 50 cents per customer to Bay St. Louis, which bills all customers in the city and county.

"Overall, we may be able to get a better monthly rate than we're currently paying," said Dabler. "We're (the homes) closer together than some customers living in the rural areas, so there wouldn't be any lengthy travel."

Authority Chairman and Supervisor Rocky Pullman said he has no problem providing the service to Diamondhead residents "providing everyone's treated fairly, and it's at no additional cost to the county." For example, Pullman said, the Authority does not furnish any customers garbage cans, and it would not furnish cans to Diamondhead residents.

Supervisor Lisa Cowand, whose 3rd District includes Diamondhead, said she plans to work with her constituents if it would be to their benefit for the county to provide the garbage collection service.

Condos and townhouses and commercial businesses in Diamondhead would still be responsible for their own garbage disposal.

Essay contest announced

High school students in their junior or senior year are invited to enter the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution George S. and Stella M. Knight Essay Contest.

The contest is open to students attending public, parochial, private or accredited home schools in Mississippi.

A $4,500 first prize and plaque is awarded to the winner of the national contest. In addition, an all-expense-paid overnight visit to Mount Vernon and a framed portrait of George Washington will be awarded to the national contest winner and chaperone if the essay topic is about George Washington.

The topic shall deal with an event, person, philosophy, or ideal associated with the American Revolution, the Declaration of Independence, or the framing of the United States Constitution.

Essays will be judged for historical accuracy, clarity of thought, organization, grammar and spelling, creativity and documentation.

Contest entry deadline is Jan. 23. Rules and other information about the contest can be obtained by sending a business-size addressed stamped envelope with your questions to Paul Duke, State Chairman, Route 4 #7 Duke Road, Eupora, MS

Flag ceremony

Members of the Bay High School Air Force ROTC presented the colors, and the band played patriotic anthems during ceremonies at the American Legion Hall in Waveland Wednesday in honor of Veterans Day. Members of the color guard were Cadet Corps Commander Linda Adam, Cadet Corps Inspector General Rocky Murphy, Deputy Cadet Commander Randi Labbe, Color Guard Commander Amy Propper and Squad Commander Robin Mason. (Echo staff photo by B.R. Hawkins)

Medals of war

Students in Mrs. Bien's sixth grade class from Bay Middle School visited the World War II display at the Bay St. Louis Depot Thursday morning. Students toured the museum quality exhibit and listened as Matthew Cirlot of the Gulf South Military Collectible Club explained the significance of the various medals of war. National crackdown on drivers who don't buckle up kids

Moments after hearing a radio announcement last May about the Operation ABC Mobilization, the nationwide effort to protect children from drivers who don't buckle children, 16 year-old Jana House decided it was time she and her two younger sisters buckled up.

At the time, they did not realize what an impact that one action could have on their lives.

Just a few minutes later, however, they were involved in a potentially fatal crash, which they survived thanks to the radio message: "Drivers who don't buckle up children will be stopped and ticketed. No exceptions. No excuses."

During the week of Thanksgiving, over 5,000 law enforcement agencies in all 50 states will again participate in the Operation ABC Mobilization: America Buckles Up Children. It will mark the second national wave this year to protect children from the greatest risk they face -- being unrestrained in a vehicle.

Given traffic crashes are the leading killer of kids, getting children buckled up is the single most important thing we can do as a nation to protect them. More than 2,000 children die in crashes each year. Sixty percent of these children are totally unrestrained, and nearly half of them would be alive today if they had been properly buckled.

We know enforcement of seat belt and child passenger safety laws work.

• The last Mobilization, which occurred the week prior to the Memorial Day holiday, convinced six million additional Americans to wear their seat belts.

• Traffic fatalities dropped by 35 percent over the holiday weekend.

• If these new seat belt users continue to wear their belts, approximately 670 lives will be saved over the year.

For more information, call (202) 625-2570 or visit the web site of the Air Bag & Seat Belt Safety Campaign (www.nsc.org/airba.htm) or the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (www.nhtsa.dot.gov).

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. David Stepro

Stepro-Lachin

Laura Jean Lachin of Waveland and David Wallace Stepro of Bay St. Louis were united in marriage October 31 at Southern Oaks Plantation in New Orleans with the reception immediately following.

The Reverend Benjamin L. Wren performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mrs. Jean Lachin Heibel and the late Mr. Victor Guido Lachin, Jr. The groom's parents are Mr. William K. Stepro of Jeffersonton, Ky. and the late Mrs. Frances Stepro.

Given in marriage by her brother, Victor Guido Lachin III of Gulfport, the bride wore a formal gown of white Italian satin in a traditional style. Hand-clipped embroidered Madiera lace outlined the V-neck and back and decorated the long sleeves. Satin buttons cascaded down the back above a butterfly peplum and soft bow. The basque waist gave way to a full skirt and chapel train, and Madiera lace bordered the hemline. Her small tiara-style headpiece was formed of Madiera lace with attached fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses with star gazers, stephanotis and English ivy.

The bride was attended by matron of honor Dr. Daphne Glindmeyer of New Orleans. Bridesmaids were Ellen Lynch Palmer of Spring, Texas, and Diane Tilton Knott of Venice, Fla.

The bridesmaids each wore a two-piece formal gown in royal-blue silk shantung. The fitted jacket featured an open neckline, fitted waistline and peplum flare at the back above a floor-length slim skirt. Pearl jewelry accented the ensemble. They carried peach roses, peach alstroemeria and white caspra with green foliage.

Ushers were Edward Favre, Mayor of Bay St. Louis, and Frank McNeil, Police Chief of Bay St. Louis.

The wedding was hosted by the bride's aunt, Miss Anna Laura Miller of Waveland, who wore a two-piece ensemble in ice-mint, crepe-back satin. The floor-length dress featured a satin-banded sweetheart neckline. The removable long-sleeved jacket was edged with satin banding. Her accessories complemented the gown.

Miss Barbara Rappold of Waveland was the reader. Mrs. Audrey Schuh Redmann of Covington was the vocalist accompanied by Mr. Brian Hymel of New Orleans.

An engagement garden party was hosted by the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor G. Lachin III of Gulfport.

Mrs. Paul LaViolette of Waveland gave a linen shower for the prospective bride at her beach home in Waveland.

A supper was hosted for the engaged couple by the bride's aunts, Mrs. Gloria Mouldedoux, Mrs. Lorraine Lachin and Mrs. Mary LeBlanc at Mrs. Lorraine Lachin's home in Mandeville.

The rehearsal party was held at The Bridges in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Lucien Gex hosted the bridesmaids' luncheon at Armand's in Waveland.

Following a wedding cruise to the Caribbean, the couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Ladner-Delle

Mr. and Mrs. Olen J. Morris Sr. of Poplarville announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Anita Lynn Morris Ladner, to Michael Anthony Delle, son of Jack Delle and Ilene Delle, both of Bay St. Louis.

The bride-elect is a Poplarville High School graduate, and the prospective groom is graduate of Hancock High School.

The marriage will take place Nov. 21, 1998, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olen J. Morris Sr.

Those needing directions should meet Michael Delle at the D&K at 1:30 p.m. to follow.

Lott-Michel

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lott

St. Joseph Chapel, Bay St. Louis, was the setting Sept. 12 for the candlelight wedding uniting Kimberly Denise Michel and Jerry Wayne Lott.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Samuel Carlo Michel Jr. and Mrs. Linda Michel McKinion.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Gary Lott of Union, Miss. and Ms. Eleanor Jean Lott of Magalia, Calif.

The Rev. Dennis J. Carver officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

Attendants to the bride and groom were Miss Christy Lockard, maid of honor, and Mr. Gerald Lott, best man. Ashley Gunther and Kaylee Michael, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls.

Trailers, mobile homes will be used to offset housing shortages for hurricane victims

Hurricane Georges struck a hard blow to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, not the least of which was the damage and destruction of dwellings. Some homes were unscathed; others suffered various amounts of damage, up to and including destruction. Now, in the aftermath, comes the putting-back-together.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), working in partnership with the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA), has implemented a number of programs aimed at putting hurricane victims back into their homes.

One major option that has been exercised is the use of mobile homes and travel trailers to address the housing needs of those whose homes have been made unlivable by Georges. Although this option takes more time to put in place, it is necessary due to the lack of rental housing mainly in Jackson and Harrison counties.

Landlords with available housing units in the disaster area—and particularly in Harrison and Jackson counties—are urged to call 1-800-525-0321 to offer their properties for lease to disaster victims.

To date FEMA has provided $2,240,878 of rental assistance and $6,180,066 for the home repair program.

Housing numbers generated in the aftermath of Hurricane Georges bear out the magnitude of the disaster, and the reason why locally-available housing units are in short supply.

As a result of Hurricane Georges there have been more than 11,504 housing applications. In Jackson County alone FEMA has received 5,318 housing applications and in Harrison County 4,274 applications have been received.

There just aren't enough surplus, undamaged, housing units to meet this need.

In the short term, homeowners whose primary residence was uninsured, but who suffered minor damage, may be eligible for up to $10,000 for repairs to make their homes livable so they can reside there while making permanent repairs.

Also, FEMA can reimburse victims for the use of hotels and motels for a short time while they wait for a FEMA rent check, or until essential home repairs can be made to make the house livable again.

Rental assistance is also available to a homeowner or enter whose primary residence is unlivable and who needs money to rent alternative housing. FEMA provides homeowners with three months rent.

Renters receive two months rent because they are normally able to re-establish themselves by occupying another rental unit. Both owners and renters may receive additional rent payments based on individual circumstances and need.

The housing supply in the area affected most severely by Georges is depleted, so FEMA will resort to the use of alternate, although slower methods, such as travel trailers and mobile homes, to provide safe, sanitary and secure housing for disaster victims.

Travel trailers are usually placed in driveways or side yards of damaged houses and used as living space for homeowners or renters while the property is being repaired. These trailers can also be located in commercial parks.

Mobile homes are usually located in existing mobile home parks or private sites to accommodate homeowners or renters when there are no existing rental units available.

The 408-B program is for victims who are in danger of mortgage foreclosure or eviction. It can help by catching up a disaster victim's mortgage or rental payments.

In general, temporary housing assistance is provided to homeowners or renters, whose residences are unlivable as a direct result of the disaster and who do not have adequate insurance coverage to provide for temporary housing.

Before applying for FEMA temporary housing assistance, these persons should first contact their insurance company or agent to determine the extent of their coverage.

Many insurance companies provide "additional living expense" coverage for such situations.

When applying for temporary housing assistance (1-800-462-9029), applicants should have available the following items: proof of residence (a driver's license, utility bill, or mail) proof of ownership (a deed, tax receipt, or mortgage payment book) and insurance information (type of policy, coverage, name of agent).

An inspector will visit each residence to determine whether it was made unlivable as a direct result of the disaster. All applicants will be sent a letter regarding their eligibility status and the type of assistance they may receive. Housing checks to eligible applicants will be mailed separately after the notification letter is sent.

Chemistry prof co-authors new textbook

A University of Southern Mississippi chemistry professor is the co-author of a new textbook exploring chemical reactions believed to be a key to understanding certain processes, including regulation of the heart.

Dr. John A. Pojman, professor and director of undergraduate studies in USM's Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, wrote An Introduction to Nonlinear Chemical Dynamics: Oscillations, Waves, Patterns and Chaos with Dr. Irving R. Epstein, provost and Helena Rubenstein Professor of Chemistry at Brandeis University in Boston.

Through the book, student chemists learn about chemical oscillations, which were believed to be exotic reactions of purely theoretical interest a few decades ago.

Now, scientists believe such oscillations govern an array of physical and biological processes, including regulation of the heart. The book aims to offer a starting point for research in the field.

Pojman, a Southern Miss faculty member since 1990, has been heavily involved in research employing microgravity, or brief periods of weightlessness, to study a new type of chemical process called frontal polymerization, a method of making plastics and foams using a reaction that propagates in the same way as a burning cigarette—the heat of the reaction spreads and produces a further reaction.

In pursuit of microgravity needed for frontal polymerization research, Pojman has collaborated with NASA scientists to fly aboard KC-135 aircraft that perform a series of roller-coaster maneuvers to the edge of outer space, offering up to 20 seconds of weightlessness at a time.

For more information on the book, including sample chapters, visit Pojman's website at <http://www-chem.st.usm.edu/japgroup/nlcd/nlcd.html>.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Do you like Thanksgiving? Turkey and dressing at a family gathering is my idea of a good time. When the brothers and sisters get together with their children, there are sometimes 30 people around our table. But the holiday was not designed to give us a four-day weekend and four days of football. Neither the days off nor the football games are bad.

Thanksgiving is "a day appointed for giving thanks for divine goodness and mercies" (Webster's New International Dictionary). The Bible is full of applicable statements of thanksgiving. For example, Psalm 105:1 says, "Oh, give thanks to the Lord, call upon His name; make known His deeds among the peoples."

The object of our thanksgiving ought to be our Creator and Redeemer. All we have comes from Him: the degree of health we have, the ability to work and make a fair wage, our employment, our housing, transportation, food and clothing. . . . When the leaves take on red and gold and brown and adorn the landscape around us, God's handiwork is evident. If we enjoy sunshine at the beach, it is God's good gift. If farmers receive rain in due season, this too is God's care.

Thanksgiving Day in America is a time to turn to God and give Him the praise He is due. Take time to give thanks to God privately and publicly.

SMH holiday open house celebrates mothers, daughters

In a special seminar featuring an expert moderator, the Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center's Women's Center and the SMH parenting Center will get the holidays underway with a unique program for women and their daughters.

A Holiday Open House Celebrating Mothers and Daughters will be held Sunday, Dec. 6, 2:30-4 p.m. in the SMH Family Resource Suite. The special program is free.

Family counselor Connie Romero will moderate, guiding participants to a celebration of the relationships and traditions unique to mothers and daughters.

Call 646-0044 to register for this special holiday happening.

This week's clue: Q equals I

Have fun with cryptophony and exercise your Bible knowledge. A King James Version Bible verse has been encoded by letter substitution. The same letter is substituted throughout the puzzle. Solve by trial and error. Answer to last week's puzzle: Luke 23:44. Copyright 1998 Charles Marx. 98-46

St. Augustine choir concert

St. Augustine Seminary will hold an Advent Concert in its chapel Sunday, Dec. 6, 7 p.m., 199 Seminary Drive, Bay St. Louis. The chapel faces Uman Avenue.

The one-hour concert, by the St. Augustine Choir, will feature "The Sounds of Advent" and is one of the ongoing celebrations of St. Augustine's 75th anniversary year.

The concert is free, and everyone is invited to attend. Free-will donations will be accepted. A reception will follow.

For information, contact Fr. Bob Kelly at 467-4322 or 467-3815.

Pumpkin patch

St. Paul Catholic School's pre-kindergarten class had a fun field trip to the local pumpkin patch. The class, taught by Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. Mays, enjoyed a hay ride, played with some farm animals and picked their own pumpkins. After a picnic, the children returned to school. St. Paul Catholic School is located at 151 Scenic Drive, Pass Christian. For information, contact Donna Reid at 452-7359.

'Tis the season for toy giving

CenturyTel will be collecting toys this holiday season in support of the annual U.S. Marine Corps Reserve-sponsored "Toys for Tots" program. The company has set a goal of collecting 25,000 toys throughout its six-state region, including Arkansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Texas and Wisconsin. Toys are being collected at local CenturyTel stores and participating agent locations now through Dec. 24. Toys will be distributed to deserving children in the areas they are collected by the local U.S. Marine Corps Reserve or a local children's service charity.

But what do people give up when they become Christians? Yes, they should give up sinning; but they will be free from guilt. They will have to give up bigotry, hatred, immorality, and despair; but they will have love, forgiveness, and peace. They will give up fear of death because they know they will have everlasting life. They will give up trying to do everything on their own and discover that they have a loving and helpful God. We cannot give more than God, and being Christians, we will receive much more than we give up. The sinful things of this world will someday pass away. The Bible tells us that the wages of sin is death. Eternal life is forever, and well worth any sacrifice on our part. The Christian goal is to love and serve God in this world, and then someday to be happy with Him in Heaven. O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever. K.J.V. 12B-THE SEA COAST ECHO—SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1998

'Beauty and the Beast' scheduled in New Orleans

The New Orleans Ballet Association continues to present the world's finest dance for audiences in the Gulf Coast region with the world premiere tour of BalletMet's nationally acclaimed, "Beauty and the Beast."

BalletMet of Columbus, Ohio, will lead the young and young at heart into an enchanted forest filled with castles, magic and wonder as the classic fairy tale comes to life on the stage of the Mahalia Jackson Theatre of the Performing Arts Saturday, Dec. 5 for two shows only at 2 and 8 p.m.

BalletMet's production is based on the classic French writings from centuries ago. For hundreds of years children have learned the story of the miner whose youngest daughter, Beauty, agrees to live in a castle with a horrible beast in order to save her father's life.

Now, with gorgeous costumes, lavish sets and some of the finest classical dancing found today, BalletMet brings this timeless story back to its original roots, bringing the mystery, enchantment and magic that is at its core.

After having studied various versions of the tale, Artistic Director David Nixon decided to set the ballet in the Art Nouveau period of France and base the dance in the classical tradition of choreography.

Beauty and the Beast promises a unique dance experience filled with special effects, such as bungee cords, fireballs, a giant hologram, full-stage projections, on-stage explosions, as well as seven different settings and 17 scene changes.

Because no original score has ever been written to accompany the story of Beauty and the Beast, the Columbus Symphony Orchestra has recorded a compilation of Post-Romantic and Impressionistic French scores especially for this production.

Selected composers include George Bizet, Achille-Claude Debussy, Gabriel Urbain Faure, Francis Poulenc, Camille Saint-Saens and others.

Nixon has choreographed for ballet and opera companies in Canada, Japan, Germany and the United States and has danced leading roles in many classical ballets and contemporary works.

For the New Orleans presentation, Nixon has designated a few smaller roles that will feature over a dozen New Orleans youth from the Step Up Ensemble of the NORD/NOBA Center for Dance.

The local dancers will perform such roles as dancing pillows and magic sprites. They have rehearsed their parts under ballet mistress Cathy Yoshimura of BalletMet and their own instructors from the NORD/NOBA program.

All children and their families who attend the 2 p.m. matinee performance are welcome to attend a free pre-performance party with Beauty and the Beast. The party begins at 12:30 at the theater. Free treats, beverages and face painting will be provided.

Tickets are available by calling the NOBA box office at 504/522-0996 or through TicketMaster at 522-1314.

Tickets range from $20 to $66.50 with student, senior, family and group discounts available.

Performances will be at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 5 at the Mahalia Jackson Theatre of the Performing Arts in Armstrong Park.

Ballroom dancers group re-organizing

The United States Amateur Ballroom Dancers Association (USABDA) has announced that the Gulf Coast MS Chapter for ballroom dancers in the Gulfport/Biloxi area is re-organizing and looking for people willing to serve on the steering committee to guide the project and enroll new members.

USABDA, a non-profit, volunteer organization, is the governing body for amateur ballroom dancing in the United States and has chapters all over the country.

The basic purpose of chapters is to create opportunities for "affordable" ballroom dancing in the community and to educate the public regarding the physical, mental and social benefits of ballroom dancing.

The local chapter will sponsor monthly dances for members and the general public. Typically, each dance will consist of a one-hour dance lesson, followed by three hours of general dancing as well as dance demonstrations. The program will include mixers and line dances.

The chapter also will promote ballroom dance training in local colleges and high schools, and will seek to increase the number of business establishments that offer ballroom dancing to the public. Membership will be open to singles as well as couples.

Membership is open to anyone, and a special welcome is extended to beginners. For information, call 1-800-447-9047.
